

SOCIAL EVENTS

Afternoon Party.

Notable among the contributions to the week's social was the afternoon party given in honor of Halloween yesterday, at which Mrs. B. B. Fleming made a charming hostess.

The Fleming residence, on Cottage street, was decorated throughout with autumn leaves, red berries and yellow pumpkin faces. The red shades over the chandeliers were cut in grotesque faces, and cast a soft glow over the scene.

The amusement of the afternoon was bridge whist, in which Mrs. H. J. Ottenheimer won the first prize, and Mrs. A. M. Cannon second. The score cards were very unique, being in the shape of the proverbial black witch riding a broom.

The luncheon was carried out in the Halloween style, being tiny pumpkin pies, doughnuts and coffee. In the dining room was a keg, covered with leaves, and out of this the ladies drew elder in tin cups, which were hanging to the keg.

The whole affair was decidedly in keeping with the occasion, and was a success in every way. The day being beautiful made everything pleasant, and the many handsome gowns of the ladies added exquisite coloring to the scene.

The guests were: Mrs. H. J. Ottenheimer, Mrs. Wolverton, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. T. C. Smith, Sr., Mrs. T. C. Smith, Jr., Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. J. W. Whitney, Mrs. Thos. Clarke, Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mrs. Jos. Albert, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Charles Weller, Mrs. Clarence Hamilton, Mrs. Max Baren, Mrs. P. H. Raymond, Mrs. A. N. Moore, Mrs. A. M. Crawford, Mrs. George Jones, Mrs. J. H. Ackermann, Mrs. Roy Burton, Mrs. Squire Farrar, Mrs. E. A. Pierce, Mrs. P. E. Slater, Mrs. Wm. Brown, Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mrs. F. A. Moore, Miss Calista Moore, Mrs. George Burnett, Mrs. T. T. Geer, Mrs. Catlin, Mrs. Robe, Alaska Mrs. J. B. Linn, Mrs. Chas. Gray, Mrs. J. G. Graham, Mrs. I. A. Manning, Mrs. Claud Gatch, Mrs. S. C. Dyer, Mrs. Looney, Reform school; Mrs. E. E. Waters, Mrs. George K. Waters, Mrs. L. K. Page, Mrs. Freeman, Iowa; Mrs. R. P. Boise, Mrs. C. L. McNary, Mrs. A. M. Cannon and Mrs. Calbreath.

Halloween Party.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker entertained a number of friends at their spacious home on Court street with a Halloween party. The house was resplendent with autumn leaves, strings of red berries and China lanterns.

Mrs. Baker was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. J. A. Mills. A number of games were enjoyed, the first being a story read by Mrs. Baker, who stopped at intervals, while her sister played some familiar pieces, the names being the words to complete the story. The prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Minton. A peanut race was the next game and it was a spirited contest, the winning side being led by Mr. Minton, and their trophy was a large dish of peanuts which they divided among the guests. The last game was also very interesting. Each person was given pencil and paper and then different ones were chosen to act out the titles of popular books. As soon as this contest closed, the ladies retired and reappeared, wrapped from head to foot in sheets and pillow cases. Each gentleman was told to choose a partner, and after all were seated at the table and the ghosts had unmasked, a dainty supper was served. The color scheme was carried out in the dining room, and the pumpkin pie, made by Mother Barnes, was much enjoyed.

After supper they all returned to the parlor and sat on the floor, by the dim light of the fireplace and told thrilling ghost tales. Those contributing to this part of the entertainment were Miss Laverne Kantner, Mrs. Emer, Mr. Min-

WHY DOES

A BABY CRY?

Because it is either hungry or in pain. Properly nourished it will usually grow up right and be comfortable—that's the principal thing for a baby. If its food lacks strength and nourishment add Scott's Emulsion at feeding time. A few drops will show surprising results. If a baby is plump it is reasonably safe. Scott's Emulsion makes babies plump.

ton and J. A. Mills. Mr. Mills also favored the company with a vocal solo.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Minton, Mr. and Mrs. Emer, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Vass, Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lee, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Iddings, and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baker. The Misses Amanda Pendergraft, Elva Wann, Clara Albert, Laverne Kantner, Bessie Sherman, Vinn Sherman, and Messrs. James Albert, J. Sharpe, Walda Mills and Master Harry Mills.

Junior Class Party.

The members of the junior class of the Salem high school held high carnival at the home of Miss Isa Constable, on Court street, last evening. The house was decorated in Halloween style with Jack o' Lanterns shedding their ghostly light over the rooms. A huge ghost stood on the front porch to welcome each guest, and a smaller one opened the door, and showed the way to the dressing room, up the dark stairway. Jokes of all kinds were played, and the fun ran high.

While those inside were enjoying themselves, the house was surrounded by a band of high school seniors, who tick-tacked on the window, and tried to force an entrance to the house. But their fun was short lived, for the strong and mighty juniors rushed out, captured them, and the shower baths that followed will linger long in the minds of the seniors.

Later other games were played and then refreshments were served, consisting of apples, doughnuts and elder. The entire junior class of forty members was present, together with the teachers, Prof. Mariatt, Miss Richards, Miss Swafford and Miss Clark.

Christian Endeavor Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the First Christian church, gave a social in honor of Halloween last evening at the church parlors, and it was a very pleasant event. The decorations were very unique, the rooms being arranged to represent a forest. Everywhere garlands of orange and yellow leaves were draped, and the yellow Jack o' Lanterns cast a glimmering light over the scene. Games of all kinds were indulged in, and later refreshments were served. These consisted of the good, old-fashioned pumpkin pies and orangeade. Young ladies attired in dresses trimmed with leaves, served the pie. Miss Bessie Smith attended the pie booth, while Miss Addie Reed served orangeade from a bower of green in one corner of the room. It was a late hour when the company adjourned.

An evening gathering of Silver Bell Circle, a well-known local social organization, was held last Saturday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. DeLong. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by a large number of guests. Mrs. DeLong was made the recipient of two very pretty tokens of esteem from members of the circle. Mrs. Dr. Pomeroy, in a happy speech of presentation, placed in Mrs. DeLong's hands a beautifully chased berry spoon, and an olive spoon, both of silver. Those present besides the host and hostess, were:

Mr. and Mrs. D. Altman, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Longene, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. DeLong, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Boney, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Derby, Mrs. Dr. Pomeroy, Mrs. Bechtel, Mrs. Germaus, Mrs. Kennon, Mrs. E. E. Olliman, Mrs. B. Bennett of Wisconsin, Mrs. Wm. Bennett, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. E. Wells, Mrs. F. B. Southwick, Mrs. Stinson, Miss Mary Stinson, Miss Laura Bennett, Miss Ulva Derby, Miss Mabel DeLong, Miss Lola DeLong, Miss Gertrude Erickson, Miss Hazel Erickson, Miss Velma Gillers, Mr. Willie Bechtel, Mr. Paul German, Mr. Roy Kennon.

A Jolly Trio.

Miss Winale Mair entertained ten of her friends last night at her home on Division street, between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock, and a jolly good time was had. Jack o' Lanterns were hung in every nook and corner of the wide porch, and everything was in true Halloween style. The first part of the entertainment was the supper, which was served by Mrs. Mair. After this games of all kinds were played, and later ice cream and cake were served.

Those present were Blanche White, Martha Swart, Opal and Allie Hatch, Hazel Olmstead, Esther Ferguson, Winnie Moore and Everett Ferguson and Carl and Robert Mutha.

Mrs. Carson Kept Halloween.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, on South High street, was a scene of much pleasure last evening, a number of boys and girls being present to celebrate Halloween night. The proverbial ghost was present, and Jack o' Lanterns were everywhere in evidence. The guests amused themselves by playing numerous games and telling whist stories. A dainty spread was served, which was enjoyed by all.

The Christian Endeavor Society, of the Central Congregational church gave a social at their church last evening in honor of All Saints' eve, and a good time is reported.

The decorations were very pretty, consisting of autumn leaves, red berries and yellow pumpkin faces. All kinds of Halloween tricks were played, bobbing for apples, spinning plates, etc. Later light refreshments were served. A collection was taken at the close, and the proceeds go to aid the Endeavor Society.

Bathhouse Sisters Entertain.

The Bathhouse Sisters gave a Halloween party at their hall in the Holman block last evening, which was a very enjoyable affair. Music, games and dancing made the time pass all too quickly, and it was at a late hour when the merry company dispersed. Refreshments were served during the evening.

"At Home."

Mrs. J. W. Cusick and Mrs. W. B. Morse are at home to their friends this afternoon, and will receive Thursday and Friday afternoons. A large list of invitations are out, and Salem's social set will be out in large numbers these beautiful days.

Miss Chrissy Clark entertained the senior class last evening at a delightfully arranged Halloween party. The usual games were played, and a dainty spread was later enjoyed.

Senior Party.

The senior class of the high school was entertained at the home of Mrs. Martha Schindler Monday evening, and an enjoyable time was had. Games of all kinds, of a Halloween nature, were played, and refreshments were served.

Halloween Party.

A pleasant party was given the little friends of Grace and Elmer Daue last evening at their home in South Salem. The house was decorated with Jack o' Lanterns, and the supper that was served was also in keeping with Halloween.

Phantom Party.

A weird and ghostly scene was presented in the Willamette University gymnasium last evening, when the shades of students assembled and celebrated All Saints' eve. Each person was arrayed in a sheet and pillow case, and no one could tell who they were talking to. The gym itself had been transformed into a woodland bower, fir trees and foliage being massed in every available space, and the light of the yellow Jacks shed slanting rays over the whole. All kinds of games and Halloween pranks were indulged in, and a grand march over the campus and back was indulged in. Cider and doughnuts were served during the evening. Misses Bella Crouse and Elva Winslow told the fortunes of all, and looked far into the future for them. Prof. Hawley told thrilling and blood curdling ghost stories, which were much enjoyed. At a late hour the ghosts unmasked and flitted homeward.

Entertained Friends.

Miss Ruth Gabrielson entertained a number of young people last evening in honor of Miss Marguerite Chamberlain, of Portland, at a Halloween party. The affair was quite informal, and was enjoyed by all present. The games and refreshments were entirely in keeping with the day.

Four Divorces, No Weddings.

Four husbands and four wives who drew unsatisfactory prizes in the marriage lottery were made free yesterday afternoon by divorces which Judge Galloway granted them. It did not take long for the court to see that the couples mismatched, for he set the divorce mill grinding and the matrimonial ties were soon severed.

L. H. Watsenbaugh secured the desired decree separating him from Mary, his wife. Other decrees granted were to Mary Cain from James L. Cain; Ida E. Fairfield from Joseph M. Fairfield, and John McDonald from Bertha A. McDonald.

Parkersville Dam Suit.

Sharp arguments were made this morning before Judge Galloway by opposing counsel in the case of Wm. Stuart against J. L. Smith, Vallier Wattier and William Wattier, one of the well-known Parkersville dam suits. The case is similar to one now before the supreme court, in which a decision is soon expected.

The defendants, for milling purposes, have maintained a dam of the waters of the Little Pudding river, the lake thus formed submerging or preventing the drainage of a considerable area of land now owned by the plaintiff and others, who formed a drainage committee, and are now trying to prevent the damming of the stream.

The first suit instituted by the land owners against Smith and the Wattiers resulted in a verdict for damages, and a permanent injunction being granted against the maintenance of the dam. This case was appealed to the supreme court, which has not yet either affirmed or set aside the decision.

This morning counsel for Wm. Stuart attempted to have the hearing of this second case postponed until after the announcement of the decision of the supreme court on the first case. The attorneys for Smith wished to have the case set for trial at a near date, regardless of any case now pending before the supreme court. The plaintiff argued, however, that, as his suit was exactly similar to the one in the supreme court in which decision was pending, he ought to secure a postponement of trial until after the supreme court announces its decision.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Roschke's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration. But no matter how deep-seated you cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

JOTTINGS ABOUT THE CITY

It is keeping everlastingly at it that brings success, and that is why the advertisers who keep their business before the public all the time, every day in the year, are piling up riches and increasing their business.

There was a couple on the streets yesterday afternoon who were dead ringers for "Happy Hooligan" and "Sis Hopkins."

Three of the chorus girls of the "Sultan of Sulu" troupe missed the depot car yesterday. But they got there just the same. The bunch bundled into an express wagon and arrived in time to make their train.

There was a big bunch of young fellows and some old ones, too, at the morning train to see the beauties in the "Peggy From Paris" company come in.

That perfumery show window at Brewer's drug store is a jim dandy and nine out of ten of the passers-by stop to take a look at the pretty goods displayed.

Telephone linemen are busy this week taking down the old overhead cables.

If the farmers don't get their fall work done, when they have such nice weather as has been turned out lately by the weather man, they don't deserve to raise any crop at all.

Fall is the nice season of the year, but it has its drawbacks, too—the streets and yards are full of dead leaves.

Just what the children want—those free school blotters—at all the stores that sell Eppley's Perfection Baking Powder.

As a result of the work of the Halloweeners last night one man living in South Salem woke up this morning to find his buggy on top of the barn, and he has been swearing a blue streak ever since.

Salem people cannot say there is a dearth of amusements in the city this week—two comic operas and Maro—a show of mystery, melody and mirth.

PLENTY OF PROOF.

From People You Know—From Salem Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Salem, of people who can be seen at the time. Read the following case of it:

G. S. Cooper, farmer, living three miles northeast of Salem, on the Garden road, says: "I was raised in the wheat district and when a good lump of a boy I prided myself as having as much strength as any other boy in the neighborhood, and when a number of us got together we often tested our strength by lifting. I very often lifted two bags of wheat, but have since regretted having done so, as the result was that I strained my back and ever after had more or less trouble from dull aching pains across my loins and other symptoms of kidney complaint. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and the first I went to town I dropped into Dr. Stone's drug store and inquired about them. I was told they were highly recommended and advised to give them a trial. I did so. And while I did not follow the treatment as regularly as I should have done, being a poor hand to take any kind of medicine, the benefit I derived from their use stamps them as a remedy which acts fully up to the representations made for it."

An Important Case.

The case of B. C. Kightlinger against B. M. Kightlinger was argued this morning before Judge Galloway. The suit is the result of a divorce decree, in which alimony and property rights were granted the wife, the plaintiff in the case. An action of foreclosure on certain property, which the former wife does not want her divorced husband to dispose of, is the cause of the present suit.

MARO HERE SATURDAY.

The Prince of Magic Will Appear Under the Auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Maro, the prince of magic, will appear at the opera house here Saturday night, November 4th, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. An intensely interesting program will be given, consisting of magic, musical numbers by the great saxophone quartet, an all-science and showgraphy. Maro's latest sensation, "Magic of the Orient," is realistic and wonderful. Throughout the entertainment the audience is kept spellbound by the wonderful feats performed, and the musical feature of the entertainment by the saxophone quartet is something never before heard in Salem.
